

What is the City Currently doing to be transparent?

Written by:mlyon 1/12/2009
1:06:00 PM

Salt Lake City has already taken a number of steps to expand the availability of information and transparency of its actions to the public. Here are a few examples currently online...

Salt Lake City has already taken a number of steps to expand the availability of information and transparency of its actions to the public. Here are a few examples currently online:

- Mayor Ralph Becker's Office
 - Mayor's Schedule
 - Mayor's Speeches
 - Press Releases
- Salt Lake City Council
 - Meeting Agendas
 - Meeting Minutes
 - Live Audio
 - Live Video
 - Video and Audio archive
 - Press Releases
- Recorder's Office
 - Salt Lake City Code
 - Elections Information
 - Campaign Finance Reporting
 - Public Notices
 - GRAMA Requests
- Community and Economic Development:
 - Acella Citizens Access Portal
 - Planning and Zoning Boards' Agendas and Meeting Minutes
 - Zoning Lookup and Maps
 - Master plans
 - Upcoming Open Houses
 - Automatic Email Notifications
- Financial Information
 - Salt Lake City Budget
 - Comprehensive Annual Financial Report \(CAFR\)
 - Employee Expense Reports
- Police Department
 - Press Releases
 - Civilian Review Board
- SLC TV

I invite you to explore www.slcgov.com in depth as there is much more information available online. There is also more information on this site under the "Resources Tab." Check back here often. Starting at the end of January, the Transparency Blog will have updates from various departments and divisions, helping inform you of the information Salt Lake City is currently providing.

Finally, can't find what your looking for or have an idea of additional information that Salt Lake City could post online? Please visit our transparency forum and make a post. You can also email me directly at matt.lyon@slcgov.com.

Sincerely,
Matt Lyon

Assistant to the Chief of Staff
